

3 Freed Nazis Cannot Find A Place To Live; Many Appeals

Nuernberg, Oct. 4 (P)—U. S. Army authorities said today the British had declined to permit Hjalmar Schacht and Hans Fritzsche, acquitted of war crimes by the International Military Tribunal, to enter the British occupation zone of Germany.

Lt. Gen. Lucius Clay, deputy American military governor, announced that the French had rejected the plea of Nazi diplomat Franz Von Papen, the third of the acquitted German war leaders, to settle in the French zone.

Live In Jail

The three acquitted men still were in the Nuernberg Palace of Justice jail, hopefully awaiting safe conduct out of the American zone. They told attorneys and army officers they feared the treatment they might receive at the hands of the Bavarians around Nuernberg, who want to try them under denazification laws.

Col. B. C. Andrus, security officer, said he was anxious to get rid of his "star boarders," but would keep them in his custody pending a decision at a higher level.

Meanwhile, attorneys for three additional Nazi war leaders and for the SS (Elite Guard) filed appeals from their convictions with the Allied Control Council. Appeals on behalf of six of the 19 men convicted Tuesday now were before the council.

Appeals were filed for Hitler's erratic deputy, Rudolf Hess, who was sentenced to life imprisonment; for Hans Frank, Hitler's gauleiter in Poland, and Jew biter Julius Streicher, both condemned to hang.

Up To Courts

Already on file were appeals for Wilhelm Frick, "protector" of Bohemia and Moravia, Nazi philosopher Alfred Rosenberg and Deputy Fuehrer Martin Bormann, all sentenced to hang. Bormann was tried in absentia. All appeals must be before the council by 3:45 p. m. tomorrow.

In Berlin U. S. Army headquarters said the three acquitted men would be given time to mull over their dilemma and make new requests. It was added that if the requests were acceptable, the men would be given safe conduct to the borders of the occupation zone involved, to protect them from violence.

The announcement said if the three selected the U. S. zone they would be given safe conduct to the community involved and police would be instructed to protect them from violence. Headquarters said it remained for the German courts to decide whether any of the three would be tried for crimes within Germany, and that the safe conduct from the prison in no way would interfere with any official German action.

BULLETINS

Pittsburgh, Oct. 4 (P)—This steel city's crippling power strike — longest in the nation's history — went into its 11th day today and the key federal mediator said it may continue for another week.

"This case is the toughest I've ever had," commented the mediator, Attorney William N. Margolis of New York.

Negotiations were deadlocked and the lone development was the possibility of resumption of street car service.

Washington, Oct. 4 (P)—Agriculture department economists said today meat supplies are unlikely to catch up with demand before 1948 — and by then people may not be able to afford as many steaks and roasts as they would like.

Lake Success, N. Y., Oct. 4 (P)—A threatened Russian boycott appeared today to have blocked U. S. efforts to force an immediate conference in Vienna on the question of free navigation of the Danube river.

Atlantic City, Oct. 4 (P)—Twenty-eight hundred shouting delegates to the United Mine Workers convention refused today to make anything less than a nationwide contract with soft coal operators, and authorized a policy committee to determine new wage demands.

A majority of bituminous operators had indicated a willingness to accept the contract under which the miners now are working for the government.

'New Guard' Here Backs GOP Slate

Crosby N. Hartzell, Adams county chairman for the New Guard Republican committee that backed John U. Shroyer and J. Calvin "Hap" Frank at the primaries, announced today that his committee is giving full support to the entire GOP slate of nominees at the general election in November.

His statement followed divergent announcements made by state figures in the New Guard leadership. John U. Shroyer announced last night he is backing John S. Rice, the Democratic nominee, for governor while William H. Harman, Philadelphia, state chairman for the New Guard, has swung his support to the regular GOP candidates.

CITY BEAUTIFUL IS THEME FOR LAYMEN'S MEET

Representatives of all organizations in the borough, religious, fraternal, political, patriotic and industrial, and all others interested, were invited today to attend a meeting of the Gettysburg Religious Laymen's Association to be held in the fire engine house, East Middle street, Sunday evening at 8:30 o'clock.

"Because of the expected tremendous increase in building in the town as soon as materials are available Sunday night's program will be of interest to everyone," a spokesman for the Religious Laymen's group said today.

"A. O. Rasmussen, Penn State college extension specialist, will present an illustrated talk on what is being done in other cities in the state to produce the 'City Beautiful'."

To Show Results Elsewhere

"Throughout the state people have been developing plans to brighten their community by taking into consideration the most beautiful types of architecture or landscaping when the time comes to repair or rebuild municipal or county buildings, and homes, industries and business establishments. It is recognized that while utility is the principal characteristic of a building, the more beautiful a city might be the more satisfied are its inhabitants and the more they strive to produce a better community."

"Mr. Rasmussen's talk, showing actual results of 'City Beautiful' campaigns in other communities will, it is believed, add to the discussion of some such program in Gettysburg as outlined last year in meetings of the Rotary club, chamber of commerce and other organizations."

"A question period will be held after the talk to allow those interested to obtain full benefit of the programs which Mr. Rasmussen has aided in other communities."

"As a tourist center we are all interested in beautifying our city and it is believed that Mr. Rasmussen's talk may provide a number of ideas for future action," the spokesman concluded.

COLLEGE OPENS 115TH YEAR; HAS 1,140 STUDENTS

"The greatest need today is for men and women possessed by a magnificent obsession, something Godlike enough to cause nobleness in their own lives and in other lives, with an infinite capacity for hard work and having that patience which is the gift God gives only to the brave," Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president of Gettysburg college told 1,140 students gathered in the Majestic theater this morning for the official opening of the college's 115th year.

The program held opened with the singing of the college hymn by the assemblage, scripture reading by Dean W. E. Tilberg, prayer by Dr. W. C. Waltemyer, Doctor Hanson's speech and prayer, singing of the "Alma Mater," and benediction by Doctor Hanson. Music for the affair was provided by a piano, cello and violin trio from the college.

Historic Days

Three opening days of Gettysburg college stand out above all others, Doctor Hanson declared in his opening address. "Those dates which loom largest are the opening of the school in 1832 when 23 students gathered at the then newly established institution; 1865 when 70 students began their studies following the Civil War and today, when over 1,100 begin their studies after the world's most agonizing war."

"I am appalled by the magnificent dream of those who established the college. With little equipment, but a few teachers, most of them on part time, they started a new school in the firm belief that every age of economic and moral chaos was brought about by a lack of education in the preceding generation."

Fault In Education

"We are starting anew today after the world again has gone through the tortures of the damned. There was something faulty in the education of the previous two generations that brought about that destruction. (Please turn to Page 3)

7 Killed In Blasts, Fire At Oil Refinery

Marcus Hook, Pa., Oct. 4 (P)—Seven persons were killed and upwards of 140 others injured by fire and thunderous explosions which roared through a unit of Sun Oil company's $13,000,000 aviation gasoline refinery seven hours before subsiding early today.

Sun Vice President Arthur E. Pew, Jr., estimated damage to the world's largest alkylation plant at $300,000. He said "a packing gland which failed, caused gas to escape and flash," touching off the series of explosions, felt 20 miles away in Philadelphia.

Boiling up in huge clouds of smoke lit by darting tongues of flame, the fire swept unchecked for four hours after the first blast at 6:10 p. m. yesterday. It was then brought under control but was not extinguished until this morning.

Many of the injured were volunteer firemen and the heaviest casu-

Here And There News Collected At Random

DO YOU MIND IF WE EXPLODE A THEORY?

Total advertising expenditures in the United States last year approximated nearly a billion dollars.

That's a lot of money. Some people think that this enormous expenditure levies a heavy tax on the things they buy.

They are wrong. Advertising actually saves more than it costs. Through advertising, the manufacturer and the retailer reduce the cost of selling. The result is a net saving to the buyer.

TYPICAL EXAMPLES OF THE COST OF ADVERTISING

These small sums make mass distribution possible, lower costs of goods to you, the consumer: Automobiles

4c per dollar of F.O.B. price
Bed Sheet
($1.75 value) 1c per sheet
Tobacco 1/4c per package
Shoes 25c per $10 pair
Popular soft drink
16/1000 of 1c per glass
Can of Soup
36/1000 of 1c per 12c can Crackers
1/10 of 1c per 10c package
Soap 1/5 of 1c per 7c cake

Advertising in your community newspaper, The Gettysburg Times, is inexpensive, yet productive of real results. Your message is delivered to nearly every home in Adams county at a modest cost, a cost that is more than offset by the results achieved.

Advertising certainly brings results . . . in SALES. It pays to advertise.

Moose Give "Iron Lung" To County, $500 For Schools

The Gettysburg Lodge of Moose Thursday evening voted to donate an "Iron Lung," an artificial respiration machine, to be used by any Adams county who may be in need of this machine. It will be turned over to the Gettysburg fire company who will be in charge of the equipment.

The Moose also voted a $500 contribution to the Adams County School Board to help finance nursing service for the county's schools.

$5,400 is needed to finance the nursing service project in county schools this year.

Governor Merle Baumgardner summed up sentiment of the members present by stating "we have voted for two good things tonight."

Various members pointed out that the "nursing service here in Gettysburg and the physical examinations provided every two years are the best things that have been done in the local school system in years."

One of the members who had visited Mooseheart, the Moose home for children added that "the children there, the most healthy I have ever seen, are the best argument for nursing and medical care."

Automatic Lung

The "Savealife" Mullikin Automatic Lung, which the Moose voted to purchase Thursday night will be presented to the Gettysburg fire company at a ceremony to be held probably some Sunday in the near future.

Consisting of aluminum chest pieces, which fit over the front and back of the chest and to which is attached rubber fittings to the neck and torso, the "iron lung" was described as capable of applying artificial respiration on scientific principles. It comes with three sizes of chest pieces designed to fit everyone from the smallest baby to a 300 pound person. The smallest accommodates infants and persons weighing up to 50 pounds. The middle size cares for persons between 50 and 165 pounds and the largest, persons up to 300 pounds.

Because the resuscitator covers only the chest and back and allows the arms and legs to be free, injuries to limbs could be treated while a person overcome by smoke, shock, strokes or the like receives the artificial respiration, the members were told.

One Man Operator

The machine weighs 90 pounds and can be operated by one person, the Moose were told. In addition in case of power failure the machine can be operated by hand. Arranged with two bellows, the one provides a vacuum to force breathing and the other pushes a supply of oxygen to the lungs.

A committee is to be formed by the firemen to operate the machine, which will be on call for anyone who may need the services of the artificial respiration machine. Among the possible uses listed were for drowning, electric shock, heart trouble, suffocation, asthma and shock.

The nursing service contribution is expected to be supplemented by a $1,000 donation from the Adams County Tuberculosis society in event the program can be carried out in the county this year.

SEEK JOBS FOR MAIMED VETS

Henry W. Garvin, president of the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce today suggested that employers make personnel inventories and plant analyses during the "National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week," October 6 to 12, to determine availability of future jobs for handicapped workers.

"The purpose of this week," Mr. Garvin said, "is to promote employment opportunities for physically handicapped persons in jobs which match their skills. Personnel inventories will show not only that most establishments have some handicapped workers already employed, but that they are efficient workers, and thus illustrate possibilities for other such jobs."

Physically handicapped workers have records for production, absenteeism, turnover and accident frequency that equal or excel comparable records among able-bodied workers. E. A. Crouse, manager of the Gettysburg U. S. Employment Service said. He added that the U.S.E.S. can, on request, provide technically trained personnel to assist in the plant surveys suggested by Mr. Crouse.

"U.S.E.S. is well equipped to make job analyses to determine the physical requirements and to match them with the physical capacities of handicapped job applicants," Mr. Crouse said. "Emphasis is placed on the remaining physical capacities of handicapped persons rather than their disabilities."

YOUTH RALLY IN BENDERSVILLE

The winter circuit of the Youth for Christ movement moved to Bendersville this week, with the first of a series of three rallies scheduled for Saturday at the Bendersville community center.

The Youth for Christ group, headed by the Rev. Harry R. Lee, York Springs, completed last Saturday a series of three rallies at York Springs and possibly will move to Gettysburg for a series after ending the Bendersville sessions, if a suitable site can be secured.

To the programs which drew crowds of up to 2,500 during the summer at outdoor sessions held in Mt. Holly Springs park, the organization has added for the winter months a new Bible quiz program in which members of the audience compete for prizes in answering questions based on the Bible, the Rev. Mr. Lee announced today.

Started as an experiment at York Springs the quiz program proved "tremendously popular," he added. Joe Miller, youth evangelist from Carlisle, will be the speaker at the rally Saturday at Bendersville. Among those scheduled to take part in the program are Douglas Baptist, Dillsburg, and Grace Lee of York Springs.

The Rev. Mr. Lee recently returned from Chicago where he visited with national officials of the Youth for Christ movement following the close of the summer rallies last month.

Harold L. Judovich, secretary of the Industrial Cleaners and Launderers association of Pennsylvania, said yesterday that 450 unionized picket workers refused to cross the picket lines established by Local 187, commission salesmen, driver and helpers, AFL, representing the strikers.

The drivers seek 11 per cent commission on rented garments and 20 per cent for individually-owned apparel in place of the 10 and 18 per cent, respectively, they get now. Judovich said. He added that the drivers made an average of $85 per week and "many of them are earning more than $100 weekly."

Sentence Youth, 15, In 'Vicious' Crime

Doylestown, Pa., Oct. 4 (P)—Aaron Shelton, Jr., 15, faced a life term in prison today for the rape slaying of Mrs. Gladys Shetland, a killing which Judge Hiram H. Keller termed "the most vicious and brutal in the history of Bucks county."

"At no time should commutation (of life sentence) be considered or granted," Judge Keller said in sentencing the youth yesterday who changed his plea from innocent to guilty after two days of trial.

The 15-year-old Shelton, first juvenile to be tried for murder in the history of the county, listened in silence to the sentence, then was led away to jail.

He confessed that he garrotted the wife of a Trenton, N. J., rubber company executive in her home last June 15, then set fire to the house and walked out to his father, doing odd jobs on the Shetland estate, to report the house "was on fire."

Seek To Bypass Pacific Shipowners

Washington, Oct. 4 (P)—The government sought today to bypass the Pacific American Shipowners association and deal directly with its member companies in a fresh effort to end the maritime strike.

The Maritime commission decided to invite various steamship company officials to fly here for a week-end conference, according to a Maritime commission official.

This official, who asked that he not be identified, told reporters the representatives of the Pacific American Shipowners association have done nothing but say "no, no, no" in the negotiations here.

The main obstacle to a settlement of the four-day-old strike of captains, mates and engine-room officers was still considered to be the west coast deadlock over demands for more union security.

Kick-Off At 2:30 O'clock Saturday Afternoon On College Memorial Field

Bullets Will Clash With Western Maryland Here On Saturday; First In 4 Years

A power-laden Western Maryland college football team will meet the Gettysburg college gridders here Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Bullets' first home football game in four years.

The Green Terrors, with 10 lettermen from former years, come here with what is reputed to be their finest team in years and confident of upsetting the Bullets.

Coach Charley Havens has plenty of reserve material and physically the squad is one of the biggest in the history of Western Maryland football. The starting line will average 267 pounds, while the Bullets will average 194.5. The Bullet starting backfield will average 178 and the Terror backfield will go 173.5.

Close to 5,000 fans are expected to be on hand if weather is favorable. Several hundred fans will come here from Western Maryland.

Lineup Altered

Injuries have forced Coach "Hen" Bream to alter his starting lineup. Missing from a week ago will be Co-captain Bill Hartman, guard, who is out with a knee injury; Mike Pavellie, tackle, who has a broken finger on his right hand; Bob Hart, back, who has a charley horse. Dick Tremble, end, may be kept out due to a minor injury while Bob Alber, center, whose father died last Saturday, has not yet returned from Moorestown, N. J.

Replacing Hartman will be Lester Ghinani; Pavellie's post will be taken by Bob Schlegel while Hart's position will be filled by Dick Constable who performed so creditably last week.

Coach Havens has announced his probably starting lineup, with weights, as follows: l.e., Jensen, 265; l.t., Kittern, 210; l.g., G. Davis, 197; c., Bush, 182; r.g., Orntend, 200; r.t., Corleto, 235; r.e., 190; q.b., Mendell, 170; l.h., Giannelli, 160; r.h., O'Keefe, 189; f.b., Corrado, 175.

Twelfth Meeting

Saturday's meeting will be the 12th between the two schools, first of which took place in 1900. The Bullets have won eight, lost two while a 19-19 tie was played in 1928. Inasmuch as a college band has not yet been organized the Blue and Gray band of Gettysburg will represent the Orange and Blue contingent.

Tickets will be on sale at the box office at Memorial field Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Gates to the field will be opened at 1:30 o'clock. Officials for the game will be: Referee, K. A. Simendinger; umpire, John Malloy; field judge, Robert Owings, and headlinesman, Ralph Farina.

CARDINALS WIN TITLE; UNAWEED BY BOSTON SOX

By JACK HAND

Enroute to St. Louis, Oct. 4 (P)—Eddie Dyer's St. Louis Cardinals are counting on the momentum of two playoff victories over the Brooklyn Dodgers to send them winging into the World Series with the Boston Red Sox Sunday as very healthy 7 to 20 underdogs.

Instead of a bedraggled flock of Redbirds, drooping after a 156-game schedule that included the first tie in major league history, the revived National league champs remain completely unawed by the gentlemen from Boston.

With the chips down in a short series, the Cardinals proved against Brooklyn they can play like the team most of the experts picked last spring to breeze to the pennant.

After Howie Pollet won the play-off opener in St. Louis Tuesday, Murry Dickson, a converted reliever, showed the Brooks something yesterday in the final 8-4 victory at Ebbets Field.

From the first inning when Brooklyn made two hits count for an early run, until the ninth when they drove him to cover in a rousing three-run uprising, Dickson held the home club without a smell of a hit, allowing only one ball to be hit to the outfield.

Dodgers Rally

The ever-faithful Dodger crowd, 31,437 strong, was walking out on the "Bums" when they crashed through with their desperate closing surge. Augie Galan's double, Ed Steven's triple, Carl Furillo's single, a wild pitch and a walk to Pee Wee Reese forced Dyer to derick "Dix" and wave on Harry (The Cat) Brecheen.

Brecheen yielded a hit to Bruce Edwards that made the score 8-4 and then walked pinch hitter Cookie Lavagetto to load the bases and bring the tying run to the plate in the person of dangerous Ed Stanky.

"The Cat" left Stanky looking at a third called strike and whiffed pinch hitter Howie Schultz with a screw ball on a 3-2 pitch to nail down the pennant.

Up to the ninth inning, the Dodgers didn't look as though they belonged on the same field with the Cards who drove starter Joe Hatten to cover in a three-run fifth inning attack after combining him for two runs and the lead on triples by Ery Dusk and Dickson in the second inning.

Dyer, winning a pennant in his first year in the big leagues, squeezed home a run in the seventh on two walks and two sacrifice bunts.

Pollet May Start

Kirby Higbe bore the brunt of the final Card outburst in the eighth, when Whitey Kurowski drove in two runs with a bases-loaded single. Red Schoendienst's single, Terry Moore's ground rule double that bounced into the left field seats and an intentional pass to Stan Musial set the stage.

If Pollet feels that his strained side won't bother his control, he will be the opening game pitcher. If there is any doubt about the matter, Dyer will go with Brecheen, one of the best "money" pitchers in the game. He is certain to start a left-hander despite Dickson's early success yesterday.

The Cards figure they probably will face Tex Hughson in the first game, a welcome relief from left-handers as tough as Tex may turn out to be.

CARD BATTERS SERVED WELL

New York, Oct. 4 (P)—The big three of the St. Louis Cardinal batting order, Stan Musial, Eros Slaughter and George Kurowski, smashed some telling blows in the Redbirds' two-game sweep of their playoff for the National league pennant with the Brooklyn Dodgers but only Slaughter managed to increase his batting average.

Musial, the circuit's leading hitter garnered only two safeties in eight tries and his final unofficial average dropped from .367 to .365. However, the star first baseman rapped out a double, a triple and scored three runs to boost his league leading total in these departments to 49, 20 and 124 respectively. His two hits also increased his circuit pacing output to 228.

Slaughter collected three hits in seven trips to the plate to increase his mark to .300 and gain the ninth position among the first ten batters. Kurowski, collected one safety in four appearances but he remained in a seventh place deadlock with Chicago's Ed Waitkus as his average failed to change from his regular season mark of .303.

Dixie Walker of the Dodgers still is in fourth place but the popular Brook outfielder failed to hit in seven trips during the series and his mark fell from .323 to .319. Howie Pollet, who gained his 21st win in the first game of the set, became the circuit's biggest winner.

The first oil lease in Pennsylvania was made in 1854.

Carter On Indiana Eleven

Francis (Pooney) Carter, the Gettysburg, Pa., pass-catching end on Indiana's 1946 football squad, has rejoined the Hoosier eleven this season after three years Army service that included duty in all the major campaigns of the Pacific. Carter appeared in both the Cincinnati and Michigan contests and may well develop into the team's leading wingman before the 1945 Big Nine champions close the season with Purdue November 23. At Gettysburg high school, "Pooney" made All-State with the football team, was all-conference in track, and played on the District 3 championship basketball quintet.

Irish Easy Winners

Notre Dame over Pittsburgh: Before you can spell Ziggy Czaroski, Mississippi State over Louisiana State: On the theory that Shorty McWilliams has become an effective part of the rebels grid machine.

AGREE ON PERIL BUT DIVIDE ON ATOMIC STATUS

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, Oct. 4 (P)—Grave danger confronts United Nations efforts to set up international atomic controls. Bernard M. Baruch and Henry A. Wallace virtually agreed today.

But they bitterly disputed the cause.

Wallace, ousted Secretary of Commerce, blamed Baruch. He declared that with nations already launched on "a frantic atomic bomb race," Baruch has adopted a "stubborn and inflexible" approach to negotiations involving Russia.

"Gravely Dangerous"

Baruch, American member of the U.N. Atomic Energy Commission blamed Wallace. He asserted the former cabinet officer perpetrated "errors" and caused public confusion in his criticism of the United States control plan.

The "errors," Baruch charged, are "gravely dangerous to the delicate negotiations now underway."

While President Truman put the whole controversy down as a matter between Baruch and Wallace, the government actually appeared to be caught between its international negotiations and the domestic controversy which the highly personal charges of the two men seemed certain to arouse.

Atomic "Impasse"

Wallace, whom the President removed from the cabinet last month because of his split with Secretary of State Byrnes over Russian relations, had the latest word in the row with Baruch.

In a statement last night, Wallace declared that atomic energy negotiations in the United Nations have reached an "impasse" on two basic points of disagreement, which he attributed indirectly to Baruch's "stubbornness." The two points, he said, are:

1. Whether the United States should "continue its production and stockpiling of atomic bombs during the negotiation" of a treaty leading to full international control.

2. Russia's "refusal to agree to an international system of inspection to control atomic energy production."

Reading Firemen Win York Prizes

York, Pa., Oct. 4 (P)—Reading firemen won two major prizes last night at a parade highlighting the annual Pennsylvania Volunteer Firemen's convention in session here.

Liberty Fire Co. No. 5 of Reading, with 102 members and a 33-piece band, was the largest in its class, and the Kenhorst Fire company of Reading was adjudged the best-appearing band.

Other prize awards included: Uniform company coming longest distance, Union City; second largest uniformed company, Harrisburg Marching club, and best-appearing piece of apparatus, Tamaqua Fire company.

COLLEGE OPENS

Economic success and "making a living" were the ideals of the generations that caused the war.

"The great universities make a tremendous contribution to our world but only the church-inspired college is able today to furnish the type of living and thinking that can make tomorrow safe. The world today is what it is not because we did not know, but because of what we did with what we did know."

"You and I are not living in a comfortable generation. People are inspired to emotional ill-balance because they are steering their thinking by what they see and not what they believe."

Building Men and Women "We too shall take the idea of 1832, not to build machines, but men and women who can face life and come through with hearts still strong and lives still great."

"Never before was there a time when people had to think and think in a quiet place. Stability today depends upon what you concentrate on rather than what you think about it. Life today is happy in exact proportion to the ability of individuals to attain a capacity to exclude things that do not matter. Every life becomes great in proportion to what it renounces."

"There is not a nation in the world which does not possess people noble enough and with enough of God in their hearts to seek friendship; there is not a world problem that cannot be solved by those men and women if they can reach leadership."

Preparing for Life "What you see is determined by what you do not look at. When you pick a rose you do not think of the worms in the ground under it."

"The cheapest thing in the world is constant carping criticism; nothing is more magnificent than appreciation."

"Education is of value only as it prepares you to live in the world you live in. When Marie Antoinette went out into the streets, all of the poor, the lame and the dirty were removed so that she saw only the right and prosperous. Thus when the revolution came she was unable to realize why it occurred or its causes. You and I do not want to go through life that way. We have to see all that life contains. But we can choose only that which is best."

Publishers Elect McLean President

Harrisburg, Oct. 4 (P)—William I. McClean, Jr., vice president and treasurer of the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, was elected by acclamation today as president of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' Association.

The Philadelphia newspaper executive succeeds, effective January 1, Stanley W. Calkins, publisher of the Uniontown Morning Herald and The Evening Standard.

Other 1947 officers named were James W. Knepper, Carnegie Signal-Item, vice president, and Howard Reynolds, Quarryville Sun, secretary-treasurer, both publishers of weeklies.

Knepper replaces Harry Kimmel, publisher of the Media News, a weekly. Reynolds' reelection keeps him at a post he had held since the PNPA was founded in 1925.

SEES YEARS OF TALK FOR PEACE

Harrisburg, Oct. 4 (P)—U. S. Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass.) predicted today the world's peacemakers will require up to five years of parleys "to obtain a lasting peace."

"We cannot expect the peace to be won overnight x x x but we must have a consistent policy that will not be dictated to us by any nation anywhere on the earth," he declared without mentioning a specific country.

The Massachusetts senator called upon newspaper publishers "to work for a peace with justice" in a prepared address at the opening session of the 22nd annual convention of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' Association.

Their responsibility, "regardless of political conditions, racial or religious feelings, geographical or sectional demands," is in the direction of "carrying forward the policies of international affairs."

Saltonstall, reciting his experiences while inspecting the Nazi death camps of Buchenwald and Dachau and watching the atomic bomb tests at Bikini, said they left him convinced the American citizenry has "grave international and national duties to perform if we are going to win the peace and maintain the safety and security of our country for the boys and girls of today, the mothers and fathers of the children of tomorrow."

MARKED MEAT

Bellingham, Wash., (P)—Ordering meat by telephone these days, restaurant operator Ray Anthony learned, is risky business.

He ordered $20 worth of hamburger, cube steaks and roasts.

Some unknown person picked up the meat after overhearing the telephone conversation.

FATAL TRAIN WRECK

Berwada, Ind., Oct. 4 (P)—Twenty-eight persons were killed and 70 injured today when a mail train en route from Madras to Calcutta was derailed at Ongole. It was announced that trains to and from Madras have been indefinitely delayed.

"All the boys are feeling fine about the trip," Irvine said. "We are confident we can make it in about 41 hours."

Master Sgt. Gordon S. Flsh, of Appleton, Wis., crew chief, said: "We will never beat the record set by the navy's Truclent Turtle but a ship was never in better condition than this one."

COUNTAIN JAILED

William Cullison, Biglerville R. D., was committed to jail Thursday night by Justice of the Peace John H. Bashore in default of $1,000 bail, for a hearing Thursday night, October 10. He was arrested Thursday by Constable George Hughes on a morals charge preferred by the father of a 15-year-old Gardner girl, Squire Bashore said.

Glass eyes were used by the Romans and Egyptians.

TRUMAN CALLS FOR OPENING OF PALESTINE

Washington, Oct. 4 (P)—President Truman called on Prime Minister Attlee of Britain today to open Palestine immediately to Jewish immigrants from Europe—without waiting any longer for a British-Jewish-Arab settlement of Palestine's future.

In a public Yom Kippur Day statement released here, the text of which was cabled to Attlee, Mr. Truman also endorsed the Jewish agency plan for creation of a Jewish state in an "adequate area" of Palestine and rejected outright the plan for an Arab-Jewish division of the Holy Land which Britain and many of Mr. Truman's own advisers have been supporting.

He reaffirmed his support or the earliest possible immigration of 100,000 Jews into Palestine, but urged that "substantial immigration" should begin at once before winter brings new suffering to the masses of Jewish homeless in Europe. In this projected endeavor he promised American assistance in the form of shipping and other economic aids.

Drop British Thesis

The President thus divided the Palestine problem into two parts: immediate and long range. He evidently abandoned the British thesis that some overall settlement must be worked out before any substantial number of Jewish immigrants could be permitted.

In addition to promising aid in getting Jews from Europe to Palestine, Mr. Truman also reaffirmed his intention to ask Congress—meeting next January—to "liberalize" American immigrations to allow entrance of thousands of displaced persons.

"Furthermore," he said, "should a workable solution for Palestine be devised, I would be willing to recommend to the Congress a plan for economic assistance for the development of that country."

Tooth decay has been a persistent plague since early historic times.

Today's Talk

NICE SURPRISES

Surprises are like golden flickers of light into a darkened world. The physical and mental, as well as spiritual, uplift is remarkable. Like a cool drink on a hot day. They give a lift. We all glory in these surprises.

A reader of these talks sent a number to a friend in Scotland, and that reader sent back a most appreciative letter to the newspaper that published them, and then the clipping came to me—a happy surprise that lined the clouds of that day with brilliant silver! That's the way it goes.

Many years ago a publisher got out an attractive collection of these talks and I was so pleased with it that I went out and had sent to him two dozen American Beauty roses. He wrote back saying in his 28 years of publishing this was the first time anything like that had happened! That was a surprise that sent dividends both ways.

These are but personal illustrations that most people have experienced in one way or another. Which proves that surprises are among the most worthwhile happenings in this life. There can't be too many. An unexpected book or flower sent to a friend. An encouraging letter, or a pat on the back of someone just a little low in spirit—these are superlative acts de luxe!

Life, for many people, is all too drab, so that a little surprise, now and then, directed to such folks is something that Angels could easily applaud, and we humans of the earth become enriched by. Certainly, to invent a surprise every now and then is within the realm of us all, mostly just effort!

Wouldn't it be a fine thing to set aside one day of the week, and call it Surprise Day—and surprise someone, near and dear, on that day? Perhaps no more than a letter to a friend at some distant place, or even a telephone call of encouragement to someone needing it. It's such a simple thing to do—some nice surprise. Wouldn't YOU like to welcome one?

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Thank You. If You Please!"

Just Folks

"GOOD FELLOW"
He liked the term "good fellow" and he fancied it to mean

Being generous with comrades that his wife had never seen.

He liked to have it gossiped, by the men about the town.

That he always held "his end up" and he never "let them down."

He was popular with men-folk; fond of cards, and often played;

Never whimpered at his losses, never grumbled as he paid.

He was always jolly company wherever he would roam,

But was never quite so merry when he had to stay at home.

He spent his money freely on the strangers that he met,

But his wife was always waiting for the dress she wished to get.

And it's curious the notion never pierced his solid dome—

Who would be a "real good fellow" first should win the name at home.

Hutchison informed council that the present pump, which has been in service for nine years, is supposed to throw 350 gallons of water a minute, but is unable to deliver any quantity near that. The pump's lifting power also is negligible, council was informed.

CONFERENCES FOR NEWSMEN WELCOME DISH

Washington, Oct. 4 (P)—News conferences, like lamb stew on a chilly evening, are a welcome dish here these days. This is the dreary season in Washington.

When Congress is here, news tumbles in bursting bundles out of the capitol where somebody is always mad at somebody and never pleased with things as they are.

But Congress is away now and won't be back till January. So news from the capitol comes only in dribbles.

There still is news here, of course. And much of it is of first-rank importance because it affects the whole country. But still, it only comes in jerks.

White House Best

So battalions of newsmen gladly, and hopefully, trudge around to the news conferences. Looking for green pastures and a tidy item.

The best and most far-reaching conferences, now as at any other time, are held most regularly at the White House, where President Truman does the conducting, and at the State Department, where foreign affairs are always the subject.

The White House conferences are always the most respectful and newsmen, crowded in the oval room around Mr. Truman's desk, say again and again: "Mr. President, would you care to comment on so and so?"

There's no rule about the manner of asking the question. Sometimes a direct question is shot at the President.

Since many of the newsmen are interested in some one subject, these individuals come prepared to ask a question about that subject only. Mr. Truman can always duck by saying "no comment."

"Loaded" Questions

Sometimes the questions are loaded, in an attempt to trip up the man holding the conference.

And sometimes an answer is snapped out—say by a military man who is talking like a sailor or soldier and forgets to think what he says will sound like to diplomats. That sets up bitter reaction abroad.

At times like those, the answer may be regarded abroad not as an innocent, too-quick answer but as part of a plan or plot to shout American defiance to the rest of the world.

Maybe this sort of thing happens sometimes. But most of the time it's somebody talking too much too fast.

Erie Printers Go Back To Their Jobs

Erie, Pa., Oct. 4 (P)—Printers for three Erie newspapers, on strike since Tuesday, made peace with the publishers and returned to their jobs last night.

The Dispatch-Herald and the Daily Times resume publication this morning, the Erie Morning Sun tomorrow.

The nearly 100 members of the International Typographical Union who walked out in a demand for $2 an hour signed a new contract for $1.76. They formerly received $1.50.

The contract also provides a $3 a week extra compensation for night workers, plus extra vacation time and holidays.

Men Convicted On Charges Of Rioting

Harrisburg, Oct. 4 (P)—Five men charged with riot, obstruction and felonious assault on two Harrisburg city policemen August 10 were convicted today by a Dauphin county jury which deliberated two hours.

They were Fred Stewart, Marshall Stewart, Joe Evans, Robert Peters, and Theodore Urrutia, all of Harrisburg.

The court deferred sentence of the five men—first of 15 who will be brought to trial on charges resulting from the beating and injury of Patrolmen Oscar O. Ernst and Harry Osswald as they attempted to quell a downtown disturbance.

HOME—This lad, clad in an oversize coat with a label giving his name, is one of more than 4,000,000 Japanese reparates transported home by the U. S. Navy.

PARIS SPEECH BY BYRNES IS 'OPTIMISTIC'

By RELMAN MORIN

Paris, Oct. 4 (AP)—Secretary of State James F. Byrnes declared today that "the conflict of viewpoints among the allies" is serious, but he echoed a recent statement by Prime Minister Stalin that there is no immediate danger of war.

Byrnes spoke at a luncheon of the American club in Paris.

"After every great war which has been won by the combined efforts of many nations, there has been a conflict among the allies in the making of peace," Byrnes said. "It would be folly to deny the seriousness of the conflict in viewpoints among the allies after this war."

"To ignore that conflict or minimize its seriousness will not solve the conflict nor help us along the road to peace."

"To exaggerate that conflict and its seriousness, on the other hand, only makes more difficult the resolution of the conflict."

"I concur most heartily in the view recently expressed by Generalissimo Stalin that there is no immediate danger of war. I hope that his statement will put an end to the unwarranted charges that any nation or group of nations is seeking to encircle the Soviet Union, or that the responsible leaders of the Soviet Union so believe."

He added the hope that Stalin's words would dispel "the unwarranted charges that the United States is seeking to use its possession of the atomic bomb as a threat of force against the Soviet Union."

MORE VIOLENCE AT HOLLYWOOD

Hollywood, Oct. 4 (AP)—Movie strike violence Thursday shifted to a heretofore unpicketed studio, Republic, where a car trying to enter the gate was flipped over by some of the hundreds of milling unionists.

Only a few pickets appeared at the seven major studios originally involved in the labor dispute. Even at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, scene of most of the fighting in the current strike, less than a dozen men were "on the bricks."

Today's action followed a meeting of the Screen Actors Guild last night, at which a proposal that actors observe picket lines of the Conference of Studio Unions was "overwhelmingly" rejected.

The American Legion stadium mass meeting, attended by some 2,500 film players, famous and obscure, was calling to inform the Actors' Guild of developments in the bitter jurisdictional dispute between the CSU and the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees, both AFL, which has led to bloodshed and numerous arrests. The Guild is taking a mail ballot on whether to support the strike.

The meeting was told that a delegation of movie stars will fly to Chicago next week to lay before an AFL convention a demand that machinery be set up to arbitrate such disputes. The group will include Robert Taylor, Walter Pidgeon, Robert Montgomery, Edward Arnold, Gene Kelly, George Murphy, Dick Powell, Ronald Reagan, Jane Wyman and June Allyson.

Atlanta, Oct. 4 (AP)—Japanese scientists who developed and successfully tested an atom bomb three days before the war ended are now prisoners of the Russians in Moscow, the Atlanta constitution said in a copyrighted story in Thursday's issue.

Nurse Supply Is Critically Short

Philadelphia, Oct. 4 (AP)—A critical shortage of graduate nurses is one of the nation's greatest health problems, says Edith H. Smith, dean of the Syracuse University School of Nursing.

"Young women today are seeking professional education on higher levels," Miss Smith told the 48th annual convention of the American hospital association yesterday. "Practically all schools of nursing require a 48-hour work and class week, a schedule which should be frowned on from both the scholastic and health viewpoint by any other educational institution."

This schedule, she continued, is a cause of "present high incidence of tuberculosis among student nurses."

Miss Smith urged a vigorous campaign to improve conditions in the nursing profession, and to recruit the 41,000 student nurses required to build hospital staffs to the required level.

300 FAMILIES HAVE NO LIGHT

Pittsburgh, Oct. 4 (AP)—Three hundred families in suburban Mount Washington—without a spark of electricity for five days—spoke bitterly today of the "good old times" and sympathized with the plight of ancestors in the pre-radio and vacuum cleaner days.

Five blocks of the community were cut off from electrical current last Monday when a power line failed and the Duquesne Light company was unable to make repairs because of a lack of manpower in the current strike of Independent Union employees.

For Pittsburghers who fear the 11-day power strike might plunge the entire district into darkness, the Mount Washington residents could give this recital of misery:

Hundreds of dollars worth of food has been dumped into garbage cans for lack of refrigeration and uncounted washings are still soaking or lying "routh dry" in baskets. What ironing has been done had been performed with electric irons heated on gas stoves and for five days the area has not heard the sound of a radio, the whirr of a vacuum cleaner, or the buzz of a doorbell. No electric light on streets or in homes has burned and babies formulae have soured before infants could drink the milk.

Mrs. J. I. Morrow, one of the victims whose family includes four generations, pointed to a 55-year-old oil lamp on her kitchen table and said: "I packed this lamp away 40 years ago. Never thought I'd need it again. What's the world coming to?"

Black Panther Is Still On Loose

Warren, Pa., Oct. 4 (AP)—The sleek black panther which has been worrying various northwestern Pennsylvania communities the last few winters is still on the loose.

Don Heim reported seeing the animal in woods just at the edge of the borough. He estimated it was three feet long and 18 inches high. Heim's mother told of hearing a panther scream at night.

According to a report from Clifford Myers, the panther may have a mate. He said he saw a pair of them.

Hunters have been unable to catch up with the much talked-about prey.

BYRNES TELLS RUSSIANS HOW WAR CAN BEGIN

By J. M. ROBERTS, Jr.
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Some languages are difficult to translate into English, and among them is the diplomatic, but Secretary Byrnes' speech in Paris yesterday certainly is open to the interpretation he is reminding Russia that any nation in too avid pursuit of its own political and economic objectives is running the risk of war.

As reported here the other day, most world statesmen do not think Russia wants war—but many of them are afraid she will eventually reach for something, in the belief that she can get it without war, and then find herself mistaken.

How He Put It

Byrnes didn't actually mention Russia in the same breath with his definition of what will cause war, but here is the way he put it:

"I concur most heartily in the view recently expressed by Generalissimo Stalin that there is no immediate danger of war. I hope that his statement will put an end to the unwarranted charges that any nation or group of nations is seeking to encircle the Soviet Union, or that the responsible leaders of the Soviet Union so believe."

"I do not believe that any responsible official of any government wants war. The world has had enough of war."

And then without pause: "The difficulty is that while no nation wants war, nations may pursue policies or courses of action which lead to war. Nations may seek political and economic advantages which they cannot obtain without war."

The Byrnes Answer

Byrnes could have added that one nation's search for military security might so threaten another's position as to cause war, also.

Perhaps he did have that in mind when he said:

"The people of the United States believe in freedom for all men and for all nations, x x x (and) have

Movie Theaters Closed By Strike

DuBois, Pa., Oct. 4 (AP)—A strike of projectionists at eight moving picture theaters in Clearfield, Elk and Jefferson counties went into its third day today, with union members demanding a 20 cents hourly raise.

The theaters are owned by the Harris Amusement company and Warner Brothers. Two are in Punxsutawney, two in Ridgway and one each in DuBois, Brookville, St. Mary's and Reynoldsville. They have a combined seating capacity of 5,250.

Spokesmen for the the AFL-International Alliance of Theatrical State Employees said they walked out Wednesday after negotiations, under way since June, were broken off. The raise asked by the union would bring hourly pay to $1.40. The union also asks an additional 10-cent raise a year from now, plus a week's paid vacation, and time and a half for Sunday work.

no desire to impose their will upon any other people or to obstruct their efforts to improve their social, economic or political conditions. In our view, freedom and human progress are inseparable."

Here is Byrnes' answer to Stalin—that he who will respect the rights of others will have his own so respected by the United States.

2,000 Students In Emergency Centers

Pittsburgh, Oct. 4 (AP)—Approximately 2,000 first year students will be accommodated at four emergency college centers opening in Western Pennsylvania October 21.

John W. Patton, director of the state-sponsored program, said the veterans' and non-veteran enrollment will include virtually all qualified applicants unable to get into regular college classes because of overcrowded conditions.

Afternoon and evening classes will be held at three centers. They are the vocational high school at McKeesport, Charleroi high school and the Vandergrift high school. A normal day schedule will be followed

PAPERS PLAGUED BY HIGH COSTS

Harrisburg, Oct. 4 (AP)—Increased wages and higher costs of newsprint have created "a serious problem" for publishers, William N. Hardy, manager of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' Association, said today.

"With wages and salaries accounting for more than half of the cost of producing a newspaper," Hardy said in a report made public today, "publishers have been confronted with a disproportionate increase in costs in this bracket."

The PNPA manager said the national wage picture does not show to a "great extent" how wages and salaries in the newspaper field have advanced since 1941.

Turning to the newsprint shortage problem, Hardy said costs have risen to $75 a ton, or 118 per cent above the $34 price in 1933. Newsprint is the principal product consumed in producing a newspaper, he added, "but ink, type metal and machinery also have advanced considerably."

"There is every indication that increased revenue through advertising and circulation will be hampered by the shortages of newsprint for at least a year," Hardy reported.

To meet the current economic situation, he said publishers have four alternatives.

"The most increase advertising and subscription rates, curtail their public service, find new and more economical production methods, or go out of business."

Twenty-four daily newspapers in the state are now selling for five cents a copy and 61 are priced at four cents, his report showed. Thirty-seven still sell for three cents.

TEACHERS TAKE VOTE ON STRIKE

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Oct. 4 (AP)—Striking Wilkes-Barre township school teachers were together today to act on an agreement reached by their spokesmen with the school district in a move to end the four-day-old walkout that has given 950 pupils an unscheduled vacation.

Approval by the teachers would permit resumption of classes Monday. The teachers refused to report for classes last Tuesday, demanding back pay, five days annual sick leave and a $300 a year pay increase over their present salaries of $1,200 and $2,000.

Raymond Horan, spokesman for the teachers, said the board agreed to pay all back wages, and grant the sick leave, and in addition pledged that when it is unable to meet payrolls, teachers may borrow their salaries from local banks, with the board repaying principal of the loans and the interest.

Horan said the board also agreed to confer with a committee of teachers in drawing up the next budget and would entertain suggestions on how teacher salaries can be increased.

VIOLENCE IN INDIA

Bombay, Oct. 4 (AP)—Three persons were killed and 19 wounded in outbreaks of communal violence in Bombay during the 24 hours ending at midnight, an official announcement said today. Most casualties were the result of isolated stabbings. The wounded included an Indian newspaperman who was shot from ambush in a side street.

COMMUNISM
Communism is a form of government chosen by certain people—popular only in Russia, but even not one hundred per cent there. It is alright for Russia if some Russians like it—but for us here in America it would crucify the very ideal upon which our constitution was conceived. Yet we have certain people in America who would change our democracy for a Russian gas balloon which will deflate itself when enough purged Russians rise up in force against the communist doctrine.

STELLE RIFT WITH BRADLEY STIRS LEGION
San Francisco, Oct. 4 (AP)—American Legion dissatisfaction with government handling of veterans' affairs, aggravated by personal exchanges between Veterans' Administration Omar N. Bradley and Legion Commander John Stelle, was still a bitter issue today as the organization came to the final sessions of its annual convention.
Stelle yesterday repeated his charge that Bradley had "broken faith" with the veterans and demanded Congress be convened immediately to amend the veterans' training bill.
"The trouble has always been over the same thing," a Legion official said. "Congress passes laws for the benefit of the veterans and the Veterans' Administration, in its interpretations of the law, distorts or cancels out the intended benefits."
To Elect Officers
In Palo Alto, Bradley said only that if the $200 a month ceiling set by the Veterans' Administration for veterans' "on-the-job training" (crux of the immediate dispute between Bradley and Stelle) is found to be too low, "we will recommend that it be raised."
The most important item on today's schedule was election of new Legion officers, with Paul H. Griffith of Pennsylvania apparently slated to take over as national commander.
As had been expected, the Legion came out with a firm stand on foreign affairs, supporting the foreign policy of Secretary of State Byrnes and, in the committee report adopted on the convention floor, asserted: "There now is in progress an obvious totalitarian attempt to seize territory, to establish empire and to achieve world conquest under an ideological cloak and this attempt gravely endangers the attainment of peace, and the objectives for which America fought."
The resolution said that "this nation has a specific responsibility and duty to itself and to all mankind to contribute as effectively to the achievement and maintenance of peace as it did to the prosecution and successful conclusion of the war."
Scorns Appeasement
It urged continuance of a foreign policy which is neither hostile nor subservient to any power on earth, and which scorns appeasement.
"We are determined to convince the rest of the world that we say what we mean and mean what we say," the resolution added.
The Legion rejected three proposals for a World War II bonus, veterans feeling that this is not the time for demanding any bonus. The convention favored immediate redemption in cash of the enlisted men's terminal leave bonds.
Exemptions for income taxes for veterans who served 90 days in World War II were favored. The exemption would be for the first $5,000 income for three years from date of discharge, or end of the war, whichever date is earliest.

Russia Accuses U.S. And Britain Of Violating Big Four Agreements In Vote

CLASH COMES OVER ITALIAN REPARATIONS

Paris, Oct. 4 (AP)—Russia in angry words today accused the United States and Britain of violating their Big Four agreements by voting for an Australian amendment to set up an international commission for supervision of Italian reparations payments.

The Italian economic commission of the peace conference, which still must fix the amount Italy is to pay neighboring Allied states, passed the amendment, 12 to 8, with France, China and the Soviet states opposed.

Under the amendment, an international body consisting of the Big Four and countries receiving reparations would supervise payments other than those to Russia. These would go to Yugoslavia, Albania, Greece, Ethiopia and Poland.

Record-Breaking Session

A record-breaking all-night session of the peace conference's military commission set the pace today for weary delegates attempting to wind up their treaty-drafting task by October 15.

The military commission battled throughout the night on disarmament phases of the Bulgarian treaty.

The meeting exceeded even the long-drawn battle over the Trieste statute, which was fought out earlier this week in the Italian political and territorial commission.

Sharing the limelight with the deliberations of the military commission was the still unsolved Italian reparations question, which must be settled in commission today to clear the decks for forthcoming plenary sessions of the peace conference.

To Pass On Rules

The four-power Foreign Ministers' Council, which has final say on the treaties, last night recommended rules for streamlined procedure for the plenary sessions with a view to adjournment within a week and a half.

The conference will pass upon these rules in a plenary session Sunday afternoon and will begin reading and voting on the treaties Monday morning.

To save time, the Council recommended that:

(1) Each delegation limits its speeches on each treaty to a half hour.

To Take Up Treaties

(2) Instead of being read, copies of commission reports in English, French and Russian be distributed to delegates before the meetings.

(3) No roll call votes be taken except upon demand.

(4) No new amendments be admitted for discussion.

Treaties with Italy, Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Finland will be taken up in that order, if the Council's recommendation is followed.

HANDICAPPED OFTEN CAN BE REHABILITATED

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 4 — Ninety-seven per cent of Pennsylvania's handicapped can be rehabilitated to such an extent that they can be gainfully employed.

This is the estimate of authorities of the Pennsylvania Society for Crippled Children. The prediction was advanced after exhaustive surveys of wartime employment of partially disabled persons in Pennsylvania industries.

Release of the estimate was made by the Crippled Children's Society in conjunction with "National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week" proclaimed by President Truman from October 6 to 12.

In disclosing results of the survey, George E. Reimer, acting executive director of the volunteer organization dedicated to care of the handicapped, declared that approximately 83 per cent of Pennsylvania's industries employed partially disabled workers during the war.

Current tendencies of these industries to discharge handicapped workers were deplored by Mr. Reimer who pointed out that partially crippled employes in 1943 and 1944 demonstrated an ability to produce on a par with their physically perfect associates.

According to Mr. Reimer, accident rates among the handicapped during the war were lower than among the able-bodied.

OBSERVATIONS ON BIKES AND KNEES ABROAD

By EDDIE GILMORE

Stockholm, (AP)—There must be no large city in the world except Stockholm where the male population knows so much about the female population's knees.

It's all a matter of bicycles and short skirts.

Ladies from every walk of Swedish life fill the capital's streets and squares with fast-flying bikes and a journey on foot through the city's thoroughfares is like a voyage in a sea of knees.

Dresses Very Short

It is true that few women in the world appear to equal Sweden's in general modesty—that is, until they get on a bike.

Dresses are still short here, very short, and as hundreds upon hundreds of bicycles glide past, there are knees to the right of you . . . knees to the left . . . knees in front and all directions . . . they twinkle, bob, jump, kick, sway and pump—a great undulating pageantry of rayon covered knees.

The males accept it all as a matter of course. Bicycles have been with the Swedes for a long, long time and knees for even longer. Both are here to stay.

From first-hand observation in walks through Stockholm I am able to report that Swedish ladies dress differently than American and Russian ladies, at least in the stocking division.

Here there are few if any rolled stockings, and round garters seem to have no mission in Sweden. Stockings are firmly hitched to mid-lady's person, perhaps because of the bicycles.

Few Bare-legged

Bare knees are sometimes seen. Perhaps I'm here out of the bare season, but desultory research along these lines reveals that Sweden is nothing like as bare-legged or bare-kneed as the United States, Britain or Russia.

The size and shape of a lady, or her knees, have nothing to do with whether or not she chooses to ride a bike, but I have noticed that different ladies ride the bicycle differently and therefore have concluded that there are styles in this as in

MONOXIDE DEATH

Holidaysburg, Pa., Oct. 4 (AP)—Dr. Daniel Replegle, Blair county coroner, said Dean R. Butterbaugh, former agent for the Blue Cross hospitalization plan, was found dead in his automobile on a lonely road near here yesterday, apparently the victim of carbon monoxide poisoning. Dr. Replegle said a rubber tube had been connected to the car's exhaust pipe.

Just about everything else.

In none of them, however, does anyone seem to care a whit about how much knee is showing.

Washington, Oct. 4 (AP)—President Truman said Thursday the federal budget will be in the black at the end of this fiscal year next June 30, for the first time in 16 years.

Harrisburg, Oct. 4 (AP)—The State Justice Department has ruled that state food agents, investigating Pennsylvania's meat shortage, may enter any meat establishment in the commonwealth to examine its supplies but have no powers of confiscation unless the meat is contaminated.

BUMPER CORN CROP 'CERTAIN'

Chicago, Oct. 4 (AP)—A bumper corn crop sufficient to provide 25 bushels for every man, woman and child in the United States was labeled "secure" today by grain experts.

Corn has won its race with frost, grain men asserted, and is now out of danger—assuring the country a firm base upon which to build its cereal, meat and dairy food production next year.

C. M. Galvin, statistician for James E. Bennett and company, grain firm, predicted a record-breaking crop of 3,326,398,000 bushels on the basis of October 1 conditions reported by grain dealers, millers and other correspondents in the growing territory.

"The great bulk of the corn crop is now beyond frost damage," Galvin said, "and the crop generally will be of excellent quality. This is in sharp contrast with last year, when much soft corn was harvested."

In its weekly review, the weather bureau agreed with Galvin, stating, "Corn is now mostly safe and is in good to mostly very good condition, especially in the main belt." Only two to three per cent of the acreage in Iowa, major producing state, is not matured.

SHROYER BACKS RICE CAMPAIGN FOR GOVERNOR

By L. U. LESLIE

Harrisburg, Oct. 4 (AP)—John U. Shroyer, who lost the Republican nomination for governor at the May primary, got behind the candidacy today of Col. John S. Rice, the Democratic nominee—with Rice welcoming his backing.

Shroyer, sharp critic of the Republican leadership in Pennsylvania, threw his support to Rice in a radio speech last night as "the only consistent step I can take."

"I cannot in good conscience support the hand-picked (Republican) candidates of a leadership whose actions are contrary to the best interests of my party," Shroyer said.

Rice said he welcomed Shroyer's support "just as I welcome the support of the thousands of other independent Republicans of similar mind."

GOP Is Silent

Shroyer, Rice said, "realizes that the Republican party cannot become an instrument of service to the people as long as it is dominated by the Martin-Duff-Grundy-Taylor machine," adding:

"I am out to break that same machine. And that is the basis upon which we will march shoulder to shoulder in this campaign."

Republican State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor withheld immediate comment on Shroyer's stand. Party headquarters said a statement would be issued, probably later today.

Shroyer, who made the talk under the auspices of "The Independent Republican committee for John S. Rice for governor" said he would make several other radio speeches during the campaign.

He asserted that he is "not leaving the party of my forefathers" by endorsing Rice but is "on the other hand trying to keep faith with my party's traditions."

Shroyer recalled that as a can-

PROBE CAUSE OF WORST CRASH IN AIRLINE HISTORY

By HOWARD COWAN

Gander, Nfld., Oct. 4 (AP)—Aviation officials were at a loss today to explain the crash of a Berlin-bound American overseas airlines plane in which 39 persons lost their lives yesterday in the Newfoundland wilderness.

A board of investigators from the civil aeronautics administration awaited the arrival of a U. S. coast guard helicopter in which they planned to visit the scene of the crash, which occurred about 10 minutes after the doomed plane took off from Harmon field near Stephenville. The disaster was the worst in commercial airlines history.

All Aboard Burned

A rescue party of U. S. army personnel and a doctor, who rushed to the scene soon after the crash occurred, reported that all 31 passengers and eight crew members were burned beyond recognition. The passengers included six children ranging from three months to 11 years old and their mothers. Nine of the 12 women aboard were en route to join their husbands—most of them with occupation troops abroad.

The four engined DC-4 crashed and burned about 12 miles from Harmon field, where it had made an emergency landing due to bad weather at Gander airport, sprawling international air terminal on the other side of the island.

The giant skymaster, which began its journey from New York, had landed at Harmon field at 3 p. m. (EST) Wednesday to refuel and give the crew a 12-hour rest. Under normal weather conditions it would have refueled at Gander airport, but the base was closed in by rain and fog.

The crash occurred shortly after 3 a. m. (EST) in a highly inaccessible wooded area traversed by a 1,200-foot high range of the table mountains.

Interesting News From Littlestown And Vicinity; Report From Council

LITTLESTOWN FIREMEN DENY PARTY CHARGE

Littlestown firemen, at their monthly meeting Tuesday evening, denied reports that "numerous" parties have been held in the fire engine house. Fire company officials stated that hard liquors have never been permitted in the building, and beer has been served only twice in the last five years. It has been the custom during the past several years for those attending meetings to donate a nickel or dime to a social fund, and every second month this money is used to buy sandwiches and coffee, or some other refreshments, which are served following the monthly meeting, it was announced. No money for this purpose is taken out of the treasury. Borough council, at its meeting last week, had requested the firemen not to serve intoxicating beverages following its meetings. The firemen were at a loss to know the origin of the reports about "parties" being held, it was stated.

New By-Laws Adopted

Third and final reading of the revised by-laws took place. They will be printed in booklet form, and a copy mailed to each member. Important changes increase the membership from 200 to 300; and all new members elected must be residents of the borough. The Chief of Police is automatically made a member. The age limits were set at 18 to 45. The annual per capita assessment was raised from 50c to $1.00, half of which goes at present to the county association. The fine for absenteeism was raised from 10c to 25c for all regular meetings missed in a year, over six. This would make the annual dues of a member who attends no meetings at all $2.50 instead of the former $1.10. It is planned to establish a company benefit and death fund, when increased revenues make it possible.

Canvass For Funds

E. J. Altoff, reporting for the soliciting committee, stated that $1,610.35 had been collected during the company's two weeks' canvass for cash contributions. The canvass in the county districts has not been completed.

The committee in charge of the reorganization of the uniform rank had no report to make.

Henry Waltman, one of the trustees, reported on his appearance before borough council last week. Council agreed to the company's request that national standard thread be placed on the 1,000 feet of new hose ordered from the Fabric Fire Hose Company. By having standard thread on hose connections, the need for using reducers or adapters is eliminated.

Insurance Benefits Increased

The company voted to increase its payment of premiums on the group insurance which covers the members while performing their duties as volunteer firemen. Death benefits are increased from $1,000 to $3,000; and disability payments from 2 years to 5 years. These payments are $65 a month. In addition, medical reimbursement was raised from $500 to $1,000.

Six candidates were nominated for membership: Sterling Wisotzkey, Clayton Noble, Jr.; Theron Basehoar, Jr.; Alvin Groff, George Maitland, Jr., and Jacob Adams.

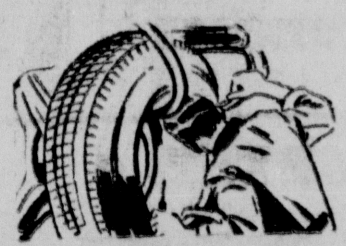

The resignation of George Halter as truck foreman and janitor was accepted by the company, and Robert Koontz was elected to fill the unexpired term. Mr. Halter is now working in Columbia.

Fire Chief Jay D. Basehoar reported two fire calls during September. Previous to the meeting, he was in charge of a demonstration of the latest all-purpose fog nozzles. A representative from Catonsville, Md., was present. The company voted to purchase a number of these nozzles.

A social committee to serve for the rest of the year was appointed as follows: Monroe Morelock, Clarence Krichen, Jr., and George Hornberger. Receipts for the evening were $16.24, and expenditures were $94.93.

The new American LaFrance fire engine was reported to have arrived in York on Wednesday, and was to be brought to Littlestown by an engineer of the company. The president and secretary were authorized to draw an order on the treasurer.

COMMUNICATION

The Gettysburg Times, Gettysburg, Pa. October 2, 1946

Dear Sir:

Upon motion which duly carried at the regular stated meeting of Alpha Fire Company, No. 1, Tuesday evening, October 1, 1946, I have been instructed to communicate with you in regards to a certain news item appearing in the Gettysburg Times under date of September 27, pertaining to action taken by the Borough of Littlestown in regards to the members of Alpha Fire Company, No. 1, serving intoxicating beverages in the engine house.

There has been quite a bit of misunderstanding by the citizens of this community, a few arguments pro and con by the Company and the Borough Council on this issue and so as to enlighten everyone concerned in this matter I wonder if it would be possible for you to print these facts:

"That any refreshments or beverages of any kind served at meetings of this Company are paid for by the members personally and the cost of same is not paid from any funds of the Company which the Company receives through donations, taxes, etc."

I trust this will meet with your approval and many thanks for anything you can do in regards to this matter. I am

Respectfully Yours,
Harry W. Badders, Sec'y,

Girl, Buried Alive, Is Rescued Unhurt

Rochester, Pa., Oct. 4 (P)—Four-year-old Janet Buckenheimer, who was buried alive for a few minutes when a cellar wall collapsed, today was reported only slightly injured.

Surgeons at Rochester General hospital stitched a few cuts in her head and sent her home to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Buckenheimer.

Janet was digging in her back yard yesterday near the foundation of the wall, and apparently loosened it. The wall collapsed, burying her under a pile of stones and dirt.

Crans of Foreign Wars will sponsor a public party in the Post home on Lombard street next Friday night.

Her parents and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Buckenheimer, hearing the crash, hurried to the scene. In a few minutes, they had her uncovered and enroute to the hospital.

The Story Of Andrew Schreiber (Shriver) Early Town Settler

Andrew continued to stumble on through the storm. The reception he had received at the last farmhouse rankled in his heart and made the pain in his feet and legs and the driving snow that, much more difficult to endure.

His path was irregular through the snow-filled lane. It seemed that nearly every 50 feet he had to stop, lean against a tree and rest. And the rest periods were becoming perilously longer each time.

The snow deepened the sound of the wagon and he heard the jangling of the harness, the rumble of the wagon body over the snow and the sound of its wheels for a long time before he realized what it was. When he turned the horse was looming, black and steaming, out of the whiteness of the snow. Andy half turned toward the vehicle and heard its driver shouting to the mare to stop.

Andrew Is Rescued

Despite his anxiety for aid the Dutchman continued to lean against the tree, as if on leaving the strength of the wood he would have nothing any longer within him to keep the spark of life still going.

The man in the wagon leaped to the snow, his feet sinking into the soft whiteness and leaving black holes as they were withdrawn. Andrew, weak and ill, his eyes cast on the ground, seemed to see only the black gaps in the snow coming toward him as if there were nothing to have made them.

"Andrew!" The voice was that of Adam Kitzmiller, one of his neighbors, but Andrew was too numb and too exhausted to do more than recognize it as a friend's. Had he not been told later who it was he would never have known who came to his rescue that bitter December of 1776.

Andrew stirred slightly and felt the man's arm holding him up. Forced by the arm he half fell forward and forced his feet to make steps.

Andrew Is Warm

There was an intolerable period of agonizing pain and then he was in the wagon, and Kitzmiller was wrapping blankets about him.

It seemed strange to have the blankets. He was warm, wonderfully warm considering it was snowing, and sleepy. He could sleep now, he decided. His head fell forward and Kitzmiller had to hold him to keep him from falling over the side of the wagon.

Thus they rode home in silence. The Revolutionary war soldier sound him over the side of the wagon but still seemed to recognize no one. He walked, aided by the group, into his cabin. Ann came running to him, and clasped him to her despite the snow that covered his clothes. He stood straight for a minute and looked at Ann.

Safe At Home

Then, saying, "The boys are all right mother," he started to sag. Ann held him up while the others reached for him and then helped them carry him to a bunk. They pulled the wet outer clothing off him and covered him.

Kitzmiller looked long at the recumbent form and then nodded satisfied.

"He is asleep. Naturally. It is good. When he awakens he will be much better."

Ann stayed by Andrew's side, occasionally stroking his face as if to give him warmth.

The girls recalled their visitor however and plied him with questions about where he had found their father and he was kept busy for half an hour giving details.

They gave him food and drink and finally he had to excuse himself in order to get to his own home.

Standing in the doorway he looked back one last time at Andrew. Some thought seemed running through his mind, causing him to frown.

Half turned to leave he said to the girls:

"It is a hard winter for both men and a new country. God help them both."

His head was bowed as he walked to the wagon. The news coming back from the Continental army was not good. The men were freezing and there was no food or ammunition. There had been such a long time since there was hope of victory and there was some place near Philadelphia, Valley Forge he believed it was, where the army was to encamp.

He shook his head sadly, whether to clear away the snow or his thoughts, the young women watching from the door could not tell.

(To be continued next week.)

asleep and his neighbor driving along in equal silence, broken only by an occasional clucking at the horses, and the noises of the wagon crunching over the newly fallen snow.

They came into York and Kitzmiller stopped for warm food and drink and found he could not waken Andrew. He went into the tavern, after propping the sleeping man, and secured hot flip. Coming back to the wagon he tried to force the hot drink into Andrew's mouth.

Schreiber seemed to swallow some, but most of it ran down over the blankets, making long black rivulets in the thick fur of snow that had drifted across the coverings. Finally Kitzmiller wiped the snow from his eyes, propped him again and went back into the tavern for food and drink.

Restless Sleep

When Kitzmiller came from the tavern Schreiber was still sleeping and was snoring heavily. His beard was covered with snow and the rapidly falling flakes had settled all over his eyes and face. Kitzmiller wiped off the brewer's face and Schreiber grunted but did not awake.

Again the long journey began through the snow. Andrew was beginning to move about a little now and was groaning in his sleep. Kitzmiller had difficulty keeping him inside the low-sided wagon. He finally stretched him out with his head on some bags. That seemed to quiet Schreiber and Kitzmiller continued, worrying about the older man as he drove along.

Kitzmiller was glad for the snow when he arrived nearer the Schreiber home. The road, a mere track in the wilderness, was rutted from long usage in all types of weather. The ruts had frozen with the winter, but with snow filling the openings the ride was smoother. But there were still many thankyoumams in the drive.

The dark shape seen through the snow began to take form and be clearly recognizable as the Schreiber cabin.

Kitzmiller felt a surge of homecoming inside himself for Andrew's benefit and then smiled at the sudden warmth of the feeling. As he pulled in beside the house the door opened and he saw the Schreiber girls inside the cabin.

A moment later they had come running out to greet him.

"Your father is in the wagon, he is ill," Kitzmiller told them softly and they gathered around to assist him in helping the sleeping man out.

Schreiber stirred as they pulled

The 600 delegates attending the society's triennial convention will vote later on the budget committee's report.

The group elected Mrs. C. W. Baker, Jr., Duquesne, Pa., as its president, succeeding Mrs. Orville Sardon of New York. Mrs. H. S. Bechtold of Chicago, former statistical secretary, was named vice president. About 1,000 had been expected to attend the convention, which was originally set for Pittsburgh but was moved here because of the hotel strike in Pittsburgh.

Attendance here is not expected to run above 800 but even that number put a severe strain on the city's housing and food accommodations. Hundreds are being accommodated in homes but some delegates found themselves forced to sleep in hotel lobbies because all rooms were taken.
